■ NEC Report

Agartala, Apr 23: The first-ever new session's parents-teachers orientation meet of The Agartala International School (TAIS) was held at its scenic school premises at East Chandmari, Agartala on Saturday morning amid huge responses and feedback. Eminent Edu-psychologist Helen Carol D'souza of the Life Coach International Psychology, Delhi was the chief guest and mentor in the programme. The participants' parents and teachers were virtually spellbound by her beautiful deliberation. Citing several instants backed up by a power-point presentation nationally renowned motivator D'souza discussed at length the value of the human life cycle, its useful and important stages and the impact of golden family relationship vis-a-vis relentless uses of smartphones on the children's psychology and behaviours. The day's two hours event was enlivened by the large attendance of parents of school children, teaching faculty members and their active participation in the discussion. Nabanita Acherjee Principal of the TAIS in her brief welcome and thanksgiving addresses urged all to be closer to the hearts of children to understand, inspire, teach and guide them better. Beloved teacher Lucee had nicely anchored the programme with her eloquence. Being a CBSE affiliated co-educational English medium school, the TAIS is perhaps, the only English medium school located within the vicinity of the city in a very serene and clean environment amid huge green spaces all around and a herbal plant garden in front of it. Its 3: 1 student-teacher ratio allures, many to get enrolled their children there.
